CIRCULAR: Grade IX – XII

20th July 2020

Dear Parent,

We are glad to inform you that The Center for Sustainable Development & Global Competitiveness (CSDGC) at Stanford University, in collaboration with Learn with Leaders, has launched a Certificate Program for Grades IX to XII in Asia. There will be limited spots, and a small group of young learners from Asia will be selected for participation.

Details of the Stanford Environmental & Water Studies Scholars Program:

- Designed for students with growing interest and expertise in creative solutions through new ideas, environment and sustainability.
- In this program, speakers from the Stanford EWSS Scholars Program community all over the world will share their insights and experiences. The program promotes multidisciplinary exploration through connections with real-world practitioners.
- A group discussion following each session with the speaker.
- A workgroup session every two weeks to complete a creative thinking assignment with the professor.
- The program will be conducted over 8 Saturdays: from 15 August to 2 October 2020.
- This will be an online activity using video conferencing.
- The fee for this program is USD 1200.
